Reunion of the Old Second Vermont

When the last Legislature was in session a number of the survivors of the Second regiment Vermont volunteers met one night and effected a permanent organization for the purpose of holding annual reunions. Col. U. A. Woodbury of Burlington was elected president, and the first annual reunion will be held in this city, on Tuesday next, June 21, which is the anniversary of the departure of the regiment for the war. In accordance with the unanimous wish of the members, Col. Joyce, who was the first major of the regiment, will be the orator on the occasion, and a camp-fire will be held in the evening in the City Hall, at which many old soldiers and prominent citizens will be present. The survivors of no regiment in the service have any better right to meet and celebrate than those of the Old Second. The first of Vermont's three years' regiments, it was one of the best regiments sent by any State to the defence of the Union. It numbered amongst its members such soldiers as Gen. George J. Stannard, Col. J. H. Walbridge, W. W. Henry, A. T. Tracy, F. V. Randall, Newton Stone, Charles H. Joyce, Gen. P. P. Pitkin, Ad. J. O. P. Roy, Surgeon B. Walter Carpenter, Captains Elijah Wales, Richard Smith, Ephraim Harrington, Enoch Johnson, Sherman Parkhurst and many other good and true men, living and dead. Its rank and file were of Vermont's sturdiest bone and sinew. The regiment fought through from the first Bull Run to Sailor's Creek, and the men who were killed and wounded under its colors were enough in number to form a larger regiment than the average of the regiments in the army. Col. Joyce is a spirited speaker and knows how to talk to soldiers; and as the arrangements for the reunion are in the hands of a committee consisting of Gen. Henry, Col. Tracy and Capt. Woodbury, it is certain that nothing will be left undone to contribute to the success of the occasion. Our citizens generally will give a cordial welcome to the veterans of the Second, who ministered here when the regiment first enlisted and came back here to be discharged from the service, when the war was over; and a royal good time may be expected.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Interesting Meeting Last Night—Hon. Daniel Roberts's Reading.

The first regular monthly meeting of the Burlington Historical society was held Tuesday with a good attendance. The meeting was presided over by E. B. Taft, Esq., and in the absence of the secretary, Charles E. Allen, Esq., who was detained at the diocesan convention, but came in before the close of the meeting, J. L. Southwick was elected secretary pro tem. The names of County Clerk O. P. Ray, W. L. Burnap, W. B. McKillip, H. J. Shanley and E. L. Ripley were proposed for membership, which nominations and the rules of the society are required to remain over until the next regular meeting. Chairman Taft then introduced Hon. Daniel Roberts, who read his paper on the patriot oration delivered at the Bennington centennial. The author made some explanatory comments which added greatly to the interest of the production. The oration has lost nothing by age and the members of the society are to be congratulated on having an opportunity to hear it read by its author. At its conclusion there was vigorous applause and Judge Haselton moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Roberts for the reading of the oration which was voted with a will. On motion of D. J. Foster the meeting adjourned for one month to a place which shall be designated.

THE COMMENCEMENT BOAT RIDE.

A Successful Event Assured—The Arrangements in Detail.

The arrangements for the commencement boat ride are now completed. It will occur on the evening after commencement day, Thursday, June 30. The party will take the steamer Vermont, about 5.30 and go to Plattsburgh and Round Point by way of the islands, making the latter place soon after dusk, thus allowing the party a fine opportunity to enjoy the scenery along the route. Supper will be served at the Windsor hotel, which is one of the finest hotels in northern New York. The party will return to Burlington, a little after midnight. At this time all who desire can land, and those preferring to take a longer ride and to dance, will have the opportunity, as the Vermont will leave the wharf again and does not return till 3 o'clock. The Howard Opera House orchestra will accompany the excursion, giving a concert between Burlington and Plattsburgh, and furnishing music for dancing on the return trip after the boat lands at Burlington. The indications are that this will be the most enjoyable and successful boat ride that the students have yet given.

A Burlington Market Day—Views of a Chittenden County Farmer.

To the Editor of the Free Press:

I see the citizens of Burlington are interesting themselves in the formation of a Board of Trade and the establishment of a market day. This should have been done before. Burlington should offer a sure market for country produce at market prices. It is a fact that farmers have not been able to count upon finding buyers for their products, and a large trade has gone other ways. Of course we do not expect your business men to buy our goods at a loss, but it seems that the foremost city in the State, with unsurpassed shipping facilities by water as well as by rail, ought to give the producer a chance to market his wares without himself becoming a shipper. I have known dairymen take butter to Burlington—a No. 1 article—and carry it home again or take the live to eight cents less than the regular price offered by some dealers who thought to make a fine thing out of the producer's anxiety to sell. Give us a market day and market prices and the farmers will furnish the stuff to buy.

DIOCESAN CONVENTION.

THE 97TH ANNUAL ASSEMBLY OF VERMONT EPISCOPAL CHURCHES.

Opening Services at St. Paul's Church Last Evening—Many Visitors Present—Sermon by Rev. W. H. Collins—To-day's Programme.

The 97th annual convention of the Episcopal Church of Vermont opened Tuesday evening in St. Paul's church. The audience which was large included many from other towns who were present to participate in the convention. About 15 of the clergy were present. There were fine floral decorations which added to the attractiveness of the church. The music was furnished by the surplined choir. The services opened with evening prayer, after which Rev. William H. Collins, rector of St. Michael's church, Brattleboro, preached a forcible sermon from the words found in Zechariah viii: 4-5. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem and every man with his staff in his hand for very age. And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof. After speaking of the rise and origin of the prophetic order in the Jewish church the speaker went on to state that to each prophet was a specific work. This wonderful work, the divine inspiration, how and in what manner it was bestowed, and executed, the subject of deep interest to the Christian scholar. While we cannot fail to perceive in the writings of the prophets which have come down to us that the characteristic of each writer which distinguishes him as an individual are undoubtedly displayed, yet we fully believe that the mental powers and faculties, the spiritual apprehensions of each prophet at the time of his prophesying were under the rule and dominion of the eternal spirit of the living God.

He also paid a tribute to the memory of the Rev. Mr. Hutchins, assistant rector of St. Paul's church of this city. During this period he licensed five lay readers and received five applicants for holy orders.

One new church was consecrated last year at Shelburne and a new church was referred to at Haven. The bishop reports that the missions of the church have been carried on quite successfully during the year and that 83 persons were confirmed at the various missionary stations in the State. and resolution, which were adopted, in relation to the securing and use of the bequest of the late John P. Howard for a school for girls.

Various official elections were effected as follows: Col. Le Grand B. Cannon and Dr. W. S. Webb were made additional trustees of the Vermont Episcopal Institute. Elijah D. Blodgett of St. Johnsbury was re-elected a trustee of the diocese of Vermont for the term expiring in 1894. P. Cross of St. Albans was elected one of the trustees of the fund for aged and infirm clergymen to succeed Mr. J. A. Fitch of Highgate. Other announcements will be made to-morrow. The session concluded with the evening prayer, the convention adjourning until evening.

THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

Among those present were Mrs. T. H. Canfield of Burlington, Mrs. H. H. Baxter and Miss Mary Roberts of Rutland, Mrs. Jesse Burdett of Arlington and Mrs. George Nichols of Northfield. The work of the auxiliary was reported to be in a very satisfactory condition and the meeting was an interesting one.

THE NEW SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

The executive committee of the trustees of the Vermont Episcopal Institute held a meeting Wednesday and adopted plans for the erection of a new girl's school at Rock Point. The fund for this purpose now amounts to over $62,000 and it is proposed to erect a building for accommodating 75 girls. The fund for the girls' school is made up of $20,000 given by Mr. John P. Howard and of $40,000 received from various sources, including subscriptions. Some $14,000 of this latter sum is made up of the fund originally set apart by Bishop Hopkins for a girls' school at Rock Point. Work will be begun at once on the new building.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

The missionary session of the convention was held in the evening at 7.30 o'clock, the bishop presiding. The missionary committee reported through Rev. ## THE RECEPTION.

The exercises of the day had a fitting close last evening in the reception in the church parlors tendered by the ladies of St. Paul's to the members of the convention at the conclusion of the missionary meeting. The assembly was one of the most brilliant that the spacious apartments ever held and the occasion was most successful and enjoyable. After a season of social greeting elaborate refreshments were served in a very acceptable manner by the young ladies of the church. The air was freighted with the perfume of a bouquet of flowers, and the room was decorated with flowers which were arranged through the thoughtful consideration of the young ladies of St. Paul's church under the direction of Mrs. William Curtis and Miss Carrie Griswold. The visitors were profuse in their acknowledgments of the hospitality of the ladies of St. Paul's and the reception was one of the social events of the season.

THAT ENGLISH CANNON BALL.

How it Found its Way to Battery Park—Interesting Reminiscences.

The Plattsburgh Sentinel prints the following: "Mr. John Rex, an aged resident of Beekmantown, made a pleasant call at the Sentinel office Monday and in the course of conversation he remarked that he thought he could tell where the heavy cannon ball came from which was discovered at the Battery Park in Burlington. The particulars were related to him many years ago by Stephen Stowe, who when a young man resided in Burlington, but who afterward located in this county, and at the time of the march of the British from Canada to Plattsburgh was employed by American forces as a spy and visited the British camps. While Stowe, who was then a young man, was standing on the shore at Burlington he discovered a British vessel proceeding south under full sail. Suddenly a puff of smoke and a cannon ball struck a pile of oars near him, scattering them in all directions. Stowe did not stop at that locality long, but ran for a corn field near where the Battery is now located. He had hardly reached there, when another shot lodged in the sand near by. A third shot struck the house, badly wrecking it. The vessel had by this time passed out of range."
